

Finally, fall is in the air. All clubs have begun another wonderful year of volunteer work. I am enjoying serving as your president and want each of you to know that I wear the MFWC pin with great pride (Even if I am scared to death that I might lose it). I have had the pleasure of attending several club events and visited with members throughout the state. I have enjoyed great hospitality and, of course, spent a few dollars in most every town during my visit (Don't tell Bruce). I do appreciate your assistance with my special project: Feeding Fellow Mississippians. Your response has been overwhelming and I really appreciate each activity that you have done and will continue to do that will help families within your community.

I am looking forward to attending the Southern Region Conference. I am also delighted that many of you plan to attend the convention in Huntsville at the end of this month. It will be great to participate in the Wear One: Share One activity. One Friday night everyone gets to put on their favorite PJs and join ladies from throughout the region for a little fun, food and fellowship. And, of course, bring a new pair of PJs that can be donated to the local domestic violence shelter.

One special treat, on Saturday evening October 30th after the banquet, we will have a reception honoring JoAnne Reid, SRC Treasurer and Judy Martin, SRC Parliamentarian. Watch for more "spooky" details to come.

Love in Volunteer Service,

Tammie
